Congratulations, Class of 2018!

On behalf of the entire University of New Mexico community, we are proud to honor your achievements today. We call this celebration a “commencement” because the word means “a beginning or start.” This new beginning signals the end of one path, but it is also the start of lifelong opportunities for adventure and success. Commencement is a tradition that marks the intersection of the past and the future. In New Mexico, we know the value of traditions. Our rich culture is founded on the wisdom that has been handed down from our elders, and is our legacy from all the individuals who have strived to make their way in this rugged, beautiful land. Our traditions keep us connected to the lessons of the past. Our traditions are also the launch pad for our future. Today, as we honor your accomplishments as graduates of the University of New Mexico, we are celebrating your endless possibilities. Great universities foster discovery in every discipline. At UNM, we wish to give our graduates the courage and wisdom to ask challenging questions and the perseverance and skill to discover the answers. As you look ahead, I hope you will apply that spirit of inquiry in all aspects of your life.

In times of uncertainty and turmoil, remember that your education has prepared you to take on the world. I hope you will build on all that our University has given you. You can take knowledge to new heights. You can dare to imagine, then realize your greatest dreams. You can make a better world, a better community, a better family, and a better self through the power of your education.

Again, congratulations!

Always remember that you have a home here at the University of New Mexico. You are part of the pack.

Go Lobos!

Garnett S. Stokes was selected as the 23rd president of The University of New Mexico on November 2, 2017, and took office on March 1, 2018.

Stokes has a long history of leadership in public higher education. She has served as interim chancellor, provost and executive vice chancellor for academic affairs University of Missouri (MU), as provost and executive vice president for academic affairs and interim president at Florida State University (FSU), and as a faculty member, chair of the department of psychology, and dean of the Franklin College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Georgia (UGA).

Throughout her distinguished career, Stokes has advocated for an aggressive agenda for transforming the student experience and strengthening the ranks of the faculty and the environment that supports them. During her tenure at the University of Missouri, she was praised for building an outstanding and diverse leadership team dedicated to student success. Under her direction, the university established the Office of Civil Rights and Title IX. As interim president at Florida State, Stokes created a task force to address sexual and domestic violence and spearheaded the university’s “kNOw MORE” campaign. She also led FSU’s Diversity and Inclusion Council committee on Recruitment and Retention while she was Provost.

A first-generation college graduate, Stokes earned a B.A. in psychology from Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tennessee, and M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Georgia in industrial/organizational psychology. Her research has focused on personnel selection and promotion, specifically the use of biographical information in job selection and promotion decisions. As a consultant, Stokes has assisted businesses, government agencies and Fortune 500 companies in the development of their hiring procedures.

Stokes is the first female president in UNM’s 129-year history. Her husband, Dr. Jeff Younggren, is a forensic psychologist and a retired Colonel in the U.S. Army. They have four grandchildren, two boys living in Redondo Beach, California and two girls living in Seattle, Washington. They reside on campus at University House.
Intention & Impact

Today, in addition to celebrating thousands of accomplished graduates, The University of New Mexico commemorates the installation of its 23rd president, Garnett S. Stokes.

With new leadership come new opportunities and a chance to re-examine our impact on the world—collectively and as individuals.

How will you change the world?

Each of us has the power to make change—in our community, our state and our nation.

What we [do] matters.

We come to UNM for countless reasons. Most intend to [discover] new passions. Some intend to [unearth] history. Others intend to [give] unparalleled care to our patients. Intentions are the driving force for what we will [achieve].

They help transform thoughts and values into action.

And so, we ask, how will you change the world?

What are your intentions?

How will you make a meaningful impact?

At UNM, each of us defines all of us. And our impact—the combined effort of all our students, faculty, staff, and alumni—what we [contribute] to the coming generations.

This challenge is to you, Lobos.

Activate your imagination.

Discover your purpose.

And define your future.

Together our intention and impact, driven by action, will change the world around us.

WHAT WE [DO] CHANGES THE WORLD.
Ian McKinnon

Ian is the Founding Partner of Sandia Holdings, LLC (“Sandia”). Located in Greenwich, Connecticut, Sandia is the primary investment vehicle for the McKinnon family and related entities. Prior to starting Sandia, Ian spent nearly twenty years at Ziff Brothers Investments (“ZBI”), from which he retired as a Managing Partner. Prior to joining ZBI, Ian was a consultant with Bain & Company and an investment banking analyst with Merrill Lynch & Co. Ian received an MBA from Harvard Business School as a Baker Scholar, and graduated summa cum laude from Occidental College with a BA in Public Policy. He was also a finalist for both the Rhodes and Marshall scholarships.

Ian is one of the founding partners of TEAM8, a sports management company. In addition to representing athletes in various sports, TEAM8 recently spearheaded the creation of the Laver Cup, which is the tennis version of golf’s Ryder Cup. Ian serves on the boards of several non-profit entities including the Santa Fe Institute, the Albuquerque Academy, and the Brunswick School, where he chairs the Investment Committee. Ian also serves on several Advisory Boards, including HighVista Partners, a Boston asset management firm, and the McKinnon Center for Global Affairs and the Barack Obama Scholars Program, both at Occidental College. He enjoys teaching and has been a guest lecturer on investment topics for many years at Columbia Business School and the University of Virginia’s McIntire School of Commerce.

Some of Ian’s outside interests include professional soccer, where he is one of the principal owners of Venezia FC, the professional soccer club of Venice, Italy, currently competing in the second division of Italian Professional Soccer, Serie B. He is also one of the founding partners of New Mexico United, Albuquerque’s new professional soccer team in the USL. Some of his other interests include American history, mystery novels and triathlons, although with respect to the latter, he freely admits he is an abominable swimmer. Ian and his wife, Sonnet, live in Greenwich with their two children, three dogs, rabbit, and a remarkably virile fish. Ian was born and raised in Albuquerque, and never tires of explaining to people on both coasts why he named his firm after the spectacular Sandia Mountains.

The University of New Mexico is honored to welcome our most seasoned alumni, the Golden Anniversary Graduates from the Class of 1968 along with Heritage Club members, those who graduated 50 or more years ago. Many have traveled far and wide to be here this morning and to wish success upon the Class of 2018; as well as to President Garnett S. Stokes, UNM’s 23rd President.

This special Golden Graduate recognition began as a salute to alumni unable to participate in their own commencement ceremonies because of military service in WWII and the Korean Conflict. Today, many of our honored guests return to commemorate their anniversaries and participate in convocations from their respective schools and colleges.

Commissions

The Reserve Officer Training Corps, ROTC, commissions officers into the United States Armed Forces to serve the nation in Active, National Guard, or Reserve units. Since World War I, ROTC has produced the majority of our nation’s military leaders. The concept of training and commissioning the military’s junior leaders at colleges and universities across the country has become an integral part of providing our nation’s military with well rounded, educated officers. ROTC students experience a traditional college life while also receiving leadership and military training. UNM is one of the few schools in the nation to have all four military services represented on campus.

Clauve Outstanding Senior Awards

The Clauve Awards are given to UNM seniors who have at least a 3.0 cumulative grade point average. The award is based on leadership and involvement as well as academics. Students must be outstanding in both areas to be chosen to receive the Clauve Award. Those selected have made significant contributions to the campus and community.

Bilinksi Fellows

Russell J. and Dorothy S. Bilinski were true intellectuals, as well as being adventuresome, independent and driven. Russell was a researcher, academician and an entrepreneur; Dorothy was an accomplished artist and patron of the arts. They both believed that education was a means to obtain independence, and they wished to pass that independence on to others as their legacy. In furtherance of that goal, when Russell and Dorothy died, they left a significant gift for the formation of a nonprofit corporate foundation. The Bilinkski Educational Foundation seeks to fulfill this legacy by providing fellowship funds for post-secondary education for students who have demonstrated, and are likely to maintain, both the highest academic achievement and good moral character, but who lack the financial resources to complete their post-secondary education.

UNM Presidential Scholarship

For the past thirty years, Presidential Scholarships have been awarded to graduates of New Mexico high schools who come directly to the University of New Mexico to commence undergraduate education. Presidential Scholarships are funded by contributions of individuals, corporations, alumni, faculty, staff, and the University’s Hugh Woodward Trust Fund. The Scholars receive their award for four consecutive years if academic standards and full-time progress toward a degree are maintained. The University is pleased that the Presidential Scholarship Program has attracted some of New Mexico’s finest students to the campus.
